Background

Your Name: Phyllis Nelson

Your Email: prnelson@cpp.edu

Title of Referral: 2022-23 Academic Calendar

Names and Titles of proponents: Phyllis Nelson, Faculty Director for Data Analytics

Keywords: Academic, calendar, 2022-23, semester, detailed calendar, processing calendar

Is there a deadline by when this referral needs to be considered by the Academic Senate?:
Yes

Deadline Date: Dec 01, 2021

Justification for deadline: Following adoption by the Academic Senate and approval by the President, the calendar must be submitted to the Chancellor's Office in January 2022 for final review and approval.

Background: he attached 2022-23 academic calendar provides detailed dates for summer 2022 sessions, Fall 2022 Semester, Winter 2023 Intersessions, and Spring 2023 Semester. Extensive feedback has already been obtained from various constituencies through their representation in the Academic Calendar Planning Group.

There may be minor changes necessitated by Chancellor's Office requirements after issuance of this year's Technical Letter. However these adjustments are unlikely to affect faculty teaching dates. If required, these adjustments will be provided between the first and second readings.

Discussion:

- Why are some weekends color coded as days off and others not- discussion regarding weekend classes. Confirmation correct weekend color coding was in place.
- Why does Winter intersession begin 12/24. We concluded this was less than ideal, but correct.
- Why is indigenous peoples' day still also labeled with Columbus day? Federal versus state requirements
