The faculty position known as Trustee Professor is specifically designated to be occupied by a tenured former President, Chancellor, or Vice Chancellor of the California State University and is funded by the Office of the Chancellor. The Trustee Professor shall be granted appointment in a receiving academic department only after consultation with that department. If a Trustee Professor receives an appointment, that professor's course assignment shall be determined by the normal procedures of the receiving department.