What criteria will be used to select the Outstanding Advisor?

The committee is searching for the faculty member who does the best quality work in advising students, not necessarily the one who has the largest number of student advisees. Primary emphasis will be placed on academic and career advising, including placement. Important, but of secondary consideration, will be the nominee's involvement in advising other student activities.

The faculty member selected receives a cash award of $500 and certificate during the College's convocation ceremony in May. The winner's name will be inscribed on a permanent plaque displayed in the College of Agriculture building.
