Welcome and Introduction

Welcome to Cal Poly Pomona, the College of Education and Integrative Studies (CEIS), and the Educational Leadership Department. Thank you for your interest in our Preliminary Administrative Services Credential program. Consistent with the University's mission, our programs reflect a polytechnic focus on learning by doing, student success, inclusiveness, and community engagement.

This Handbook contains substantial information on key elements of our program. Please read it carefully to understand program requirements and guidelines. The Cal Poly Pomona University Catalog contains course descriptions, required prerequisites, and essential information about registration procedures, fees, and policies. The Catalog constitutes the university's official document of record, and students are responsible for the information contained in it. Also, please pay close attention to Department and University e-mail announcements. Your Cal Poly email is the official method for communicating with students, so please check it regularly. The Class Schedule you will need for registration each semester is available through BroncoDirect. Although the Department makes every effort to advise students, students are responsible for remaining informed about all guidelines and deadlines regarding the program.

We are pleased to have you join our Educational Leadership Department community of learners. We encourage you to become active participants in the program, so that you gain as much as possible from your experiences at Cal Poly Pomona.

College of Education and Integrative Studies Mission Statement

The College of Education and Integrative Studies (CEIS) is a learning community focused on meeting the present and future needs of students in our communities. We educate students to become highly qualified and significant leaders in our society. We are committed to the principles of diversity, ethics and social justice, and life-long learning. Central to our mission are innovative and integrative thinking, reflective practice, collaborative action, and learning by doing.

Educational Leadership Department Mission Statement

The mission of the Department of Educational Leadership of the College of Education and Integrative Studies is to prepare educational leaders to serve the needs of diverse learners, families, schools, and communities across Southern California in ways that are caring, collaborative, and culturally responsive. We are committed to developing transformative educational leaders who embody the values of reflexive self-examination, critical inquiry, and intersectional praxis to lead educational institutions as scholar-practitioners. We commit to providing school leaders with the analytical tools they need to be advocates for equity, social justice, and asset-based approaches that provide opportunities for success to all students, especially historically and persistently minoritized populations.

Vision

The vision of the Educational Leadership Department and Educational Leadership is to be recognized as the premier program that prepares transformative, equity-minded leaders who advance a more socially just future across educational systems.

Values

- The importance of theoretically grounded praxis, in which leaders engage in reciprocal, recursive learning through dialogue, experiential learning, research, action, and reflection
- The development of educational leaders who exhibit a sense of agency and commitment to responsibility, care, and authenticity through their words and actions.
- Culturally responsive leadership in transforming schools to become anti-racist learning environments where culturally responsive teaching practices and asset-based approaches prevail.
- Authentic school-community-university partnerships that promote spaces for collaboration in achieving positive results.
- Cultures of care in which educational leaders advocate for social justice, high academic achievement, humanization, social-emotional development, and personal well-being of students, families, educators, and communities.
- The importance of strengthening organizational cultures where the intersections of race, creed, gender, sexual orientation, or disability is respected, where marginalization is disrupted, and where forms of oppression are dismantled.

Program Features

In our efforts to develop a program that meets your needs and facilitates the best possible experiences, we are committed to the following:

- Cohort Model – You will progress through the program in a cohort of peers who also aspire to be outstanding school leaders. As a professional learning community, you and your colleagues will be able to not only support one another as you progress through the program, but also develop a network that will be helpful in your career as a school administrator.
- Classes in Schools – In most cases, you will be taking your courses at a school site in one of our partner districts. While this is not always possible, we attempt to put you close to the action (and close to the freeway, too)
- Strong Guidance and Advising – We take pride in being able to support you through the program by providing information, responding to inquiries, and helping you through the complex process of credentialing. Our faculty members are credentialed and possess a wealth of experience in your area of study. They recognize the demands you have as a full time teacher or administrator, and understand the complexity of the credentialing process. Our staff members, like the classified employees at your school site, are professionals committed to facilitating your success. We want to be your partner in reaching your professional goals!

Preliminary Administrative Services Credential Program Themes

The conceptual framework of the leadership continuum, from aspiring to accomplished educational leaders, is foundationally rooted in four key over-arching principles of a shared sense of purpose: Leadership, Expertise, Application of Knowledge, and Diversity and Global Awareness. To educate is to LEAD. The Ed.D. Program in Educational Leadership is designed to promote the advanced development of professional educators who exemplify:

- LEADERSHIP by setting an example of advocacy that influences people to collaborate in promoting transformative educational policies, pedagogies, and practices that champion excellence, equity, and ethical responsibility for all students in diverse classrooms, schools, and communities.

- EXPERTISE by engaging in the reflective study, application, synthesis, and evaluation of educational theories, contemporary issues, pedagogical practices, and research findings to develop an informed, problem-solving perspective that permeates professional inquiry, ethical commitment, and decisive action.
- APPLICATION OF KNOWLEDGE by designing and conducting research that is focused on an educational problem germane to the investigator's professional interests and concerns, systematically studied in an effective, ethical manner, and formally presented as an original contribution to educational scholarship.
- DIVERSITY And GLOBAL AWARENESS by continuing to learn about the world in the context of rapidly emerging social and technological change in order to make informed decisions and take responsible actions to cultivate, develop, and celebrate human potential in all its diverse forms.

California Administrator Performance Expectations (CAPEs) and the California Professional Standards for Educational Leaders (CPSELs)

In addition to the topic-specific nature of coursework, allied fieldwork learning activities, the California Administrator Performance Expectations (CAPEs) and the California Professional Standards for Educational Leaders (CPSELs), administrative credential candidates must continuously consider the standards set forth by the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing (CCTC) with respect to school administrators in the state:

- Implementing a Vision that Supports the Learning Needs of All Students – Learn that professional leadership is an opportunity to examine, reflect upon and implement the principles of educational equity and diversity at school sites, including access to curriculum content and school practices for all students, teachers, staff, parents or caregivers and community members. (Related to CCTC Program Standards 2, 5, 6, & 10)
- Maximizing Their Understanding of the Fieldwork Experience – Participate in significant field experiences designed to facilitate the application of theoretical concepts in practical settings through intensive experiences in a variety of diverse and realistic settings both in the day-to-day functions of administrators and in longer-term policy design and implementation. (Related to CCTC Program Standards 12, 13 & 14)
- Developing their Professional Leadership Capabilities – Learn the essential themes, concepts and skills related to the performance of administrative services, including but not limited to: relationship building; communication skills; the ability to articulate, apply and evaluate theories of leadership; an understanding of and ability to apply, model, and analyze curriculum, instructional strategies, and assessment; an understanding of standards-based accountability systems; and the ability to use data to make decisions regarding program improvement. (Related to CCTC Program Standards 2, 3, 9 & 14)
- Political, Social, Economic, Legal and Cultural Understandings – Demonstrate the skill and ability to promote the success of all students by understanding, responding to, and influencing the larger political, social, economic, legal, and cultural context including but not limited to: ensuring that the school operates consistently within the parameters of federal, state, and local laws, policies, regulations and statutory requirements; incorporating information about family and community expectations into school decision-making activities; and modeling a personal code of ethics. (Related to CCTC Program Standards 1, 2, 4, 10 & 11)
- Instructional Leadership and Technology – How to use a variety of technologies to support effective teaching, data-driven assessments, standards-based curriculum, effective/relevant staff development programs and student learning in the classroom while being mindful of the legal, ethical, and safety issues that are continuously changing as both students and educators use technology more extensively in learning and as part of lifelong needs. (Related to CCTC Program Standards 1, 7, 8 & 9)

Coursework Requirements

The following pages detail course requirements for the preliminary credential.

Concurrent Credentials

Students wishing to earn both a Multiple Subject or Single Subject Credential and an Education Specialist Credential may do so relatively easily within Cal Poly's program. Depending on the credential candidate's situation, he or she may choose to complete one credential, then complete the second credential. Or, the candidate could complete all coursework for both credentials and then complete the Clinical Practice experiences, one semester for each credential. It is recommended that at the end of Clinical Practice for the first credential, students turn in the Petition to Change/Add Credential Objective to change their major code to their second credential.

Planning Your Course Schedule

Curriculum road maps for Education Specialist credentials delineate which courses to take each semester. In designing these roadmaps, the department has considered important content scope and sequence, as well as scheduling restrictions. Candidates should check all courses for prerequisites and make sure they meet any course prerequisites before taking the course. Not every course is offered each semester. Your course schedule should be created or modified in conjunction with your advisor.

Requests to Waive Courses Based on Coursework from another University

Transcript evaluations of courses taken from another university will be conducted for currently accepted or enrolled Cal Poly students. Students wishing to waive a Cal Poly credential course and substitute a course or courses taken from another university must complete the Course Equivalency Request. Up to 9 semester units may be petitioned for course equivalency; the 7-year policy applies to petitioned courses. Attach a copy of transcripts along with a copy of the catalog course description for the year the course was taken. Submit these materials to the Credential Analyst.

Retention and Special Assistance

Candidates must maintain a 3.0 GPA to remain in the credential program. In each course, candidates will be assessed according to the TPEs and have numerous opportunities to demonstrate their written and verbal language proficiency. Those in need of additional support are guided to appropriate services and/or additional courses.

Fieldwork, Capstone, and School Wide Change Initiative Projects

A hallmark of the administrative credential program at Cal Poly Pomona is the “learn by doing” strand that includes two quarters of fieldwork (EDL 5510 & EDL 5520) along with the schoolwide change initiative (EDL 5530) This part of the program includes five capstones; four are expansions of the fieldwork learning activities chosen as “most helpful in preparing me for an administrative career” over the past ten years by program graduates and the fifth is the School-Wide Change Initiative project itself (SWCI). Please refer to the following for more specific information about this aspect of the program

- The Fieldwork Manual includes not only the 36 distinct Learning Activities but also copies of the CAPE & CPSEL credential standards along with a Capstone Pamphlet that informs candidates on the preparation of the first four capstones complete with rubrics

- The SWCI Manual for the fifth and last capstone details instructions, checkpoints and the rubric for this significant culminating project

Linking the Credential with the Master of Arts in Education

The MA program is a logical extension of the advanced credential work in the Administrative Services Credential sequence. However, it is not required of administrative services credential candidates. The degree culminates your advanced study by guiding you in inquiry on your practice, your efforts to engage in school change, and to look at student data to understand how your leadership can impact student learning and school culture. The subject of your thesis or project is of your own choosing. If you are considering earning a doctoral degree, it is highly advisable to obtain your MA degree in tandem with your Preliminary Administrative Services Credential.

Only three additional courses are needed to complete the Master's of Arts in Education program with the Preliminary Administrative Services Credential. Students enrolling for the Master of Arts in Education with the Preliminary Services Administrative Credential program will be eligible to apply for financial aid. Students only completing the Administrative Services Credential program are not eligible to apply for federal financial aid.

Specific Learning Objectives for the Preliminary ASC program courses in the “Learn by Doing” strand

In EDL 5510, EDL 5520 and/or EDL 5530, the student will demonstrate knowledge of the following areas:

- All 18 of the California Administrator Performance Expectations (CAPEs) are addressed in this portion of the Preliminary ASC program at Cal Poly Pomona which includes the 36 over-arching “hands-on,” school-site based learning activities for the two quarters of fieldwork and, depending upon each candidate’s topic, the SWCI project. Students will demonstrate knowledge of all areas of the CAPEs and their relationship to the California Professional Standards for Education Leaders (CPSELs) which are the standards for the subsequent Clear Administrative Services Credential.

CalAPA

The CalAPA consists of three cycles focusing on instructional and school improvement leadership with specific candidate assessment rubrics for each cycle (data use for instructional improvement, coaching for instructional improvement and personnel evaluation). These are subjects included in the fieldwork sequence, capstone assignments, SWCI culminating project and to a lesser extent, the two learning-to-lead content modules so candidate preparation for the CalAPA will take place within those courses. The three full leadership cycles of CalAPA are structured to utilize the four steps of investigate, plan, act, and reflect. Each of these four steps will be addressed by each cycle, with candidates providing evidence of leadership practice for each step. Acceptable evidence may be in a variety of forms, including video recordings and written narrative.

Leadership Cycle One

This cycle focuses on analyzing multiple sources of school site/district data for the purpose of identifying equity gaps to inform an initial draft plan for equitable improvement in line with the school's vision and mission. Within the cycle of investigate, plan, act, and reflect, you will collect and analyze multiple sources of longitudinal quantitative and qualitative data. In addition, you will conduct an equity gap analysis to identify potential causal factors, all culminating in a problem statement defining a specific educational need related to equity. Based on your investigation and data analysis, you will develop strategies for equitable school improvement and identify resources needed to implement these strategies aligned with the school's shared vision of equitable learning opportunities for all students. At the conclusion of this leadership cycle, you will reflect on your capacity to analyze data to inform school improvement and promote equity for all students.

Leadership Cycle Two

This cycle focuses on facilitating collaborative professional learning within a community of practice for the purpose of improving teaching and student learning. Within the cycle of investigate, plan, act, and reflect, you will identify and work with a small group of educators to identify a problem of practice and select an approach for working together. Additionally, the group will identify an evidence-based strategy to address the problem of practice that will strengthen and increase equitable learning opportunities for all students. As part of the cycle, you will reflect on how your facilitation supports the group to address the problem of practice, and how you responded to the group's feedback on your facilitation and on your ability to support the professional learning of the community of practice.

Leadership Cycle Three

This cycle focuses on coaching an individual teacher to improve teaching and learning. Within the cycle of investigate, plan, act, and reflect, you will familiarize yourself with coaching and observation practices at the school; identify a volunteer teacher whom you will coach; and conduct a full coaching cycle, including a pre-observation meeting, a focused classroom observation, and a post-observation meeting. Throughout this leadership cycle, you will reflect on your strengths and areas for professional growth as a coach and leader.

Applying for the Credential

Upon completion of all coursework and program requirements, students will need to complete the Administrative Services Credential Recommendation Request Form in order for the Credential Office to submit a recommendation for your Preliminary Administrative Services Credential document to CTC.

https://cpp.formstack.com/forms/administrative_services_credential_recommendation_request

Certificate of Eligibility

An individual who has completed all requirements but does not have an offer of employment in an administrative position at the time of completion may apply for a Certificate of Eligibility, which verifies completion of all requirements for the preliminary credential and authorizes the holder to seek employment as an administrator. The Certificate of Eligibility has no expiration date. Upon securing an offer of employment, the holder of a Certificate of Eligibility may apply for the preliminary credential by submitting an application directly to CTC. See link for more information https://www.ctc.ca.gov/docs/default-source/leaflets/cl574c.pdf?sfvrsn=8aa3c37f_10

Preliminary Administrative Services Credential

Individuals currently employed in an administrative position or have an offer of employment for an administrative position may be recommended for the Preliminary Administrative Services Credential.

The valid period of the Preliminary Administrative Services Credential is limited by the expiration date of the prerequisite credential (which must remain valid). The preliminary credential may be renewed for any time remaining up to the five full years allowed at the same time of renewing the prerequisite credential by submitting an additional application to CTC. See link for more information https://www.ctc.ca.gov/docs/default-source/leaflets/cl574c.pdf?sfvrsn=8aa3c37f_10

However, if the prerequisite credential is valid for the full five year period from the issuance date of the preliminary administrative credential, the administrative credential will be valid for the full five year period upon issuance. For this reason, it may take one complete renewal cycle to align the dates of the prerequisite and administrative credentials. By the end of the five-year preliminary period, the holder must meet the requirements for the clear credential.

APPROPRIATE CONDUCT

Disqualification/Dismissal from the Program

Students may be disqualified from the program for at least the following reasons:

- a) Failure to Make Satisfactory Progress - Students who fail to make satisfactory progress in courses or on examinations or violate University requirements will be officially disqualified from the degree program. A student may be disqualified only after a careful review and written recommendation of the Doctoral Faculty. To ensure that a decision to disqualify a student from the program is warranted, University policy adheres to due process requirements, including opportunities for appeal by the student (see Section III, O, Student Grievances, University Catalog). A student who has been disqualified is considered to have been dismissed from the program and will not be allowed to continue in the program, enroll in courses, or register without readmission.
- b) Violation of Professional Ethics and Academy Integrity Policies – See the section on university policies.
- c) Issues with Professional Dispositions – Violation of the conduct, values, and dispositions expected of educational leaders. As reflected in the National Board for Professional Teaching Standards: National Board Certification for Educational Leaders, Cal Poly Pomona supports and expects the following:
 - Accomplished educational leaders model professional, ethical behavior and expect it from others. (Ethics)
 - Accomplished educational leaders ensure equitable learning opportunities and high expectations for all. (Equity)
 - Accomplished educational leaders advocate on behalf of their schools, communities, and profession. (Advocacy)

All forms of academic dishonesty at Cal Poly Pomona are a violation of University policy. Students are expected to be knowledgeable about and adhere to the professional standards for their field as well as University standards of conduct. Students' continued participation in programs within the University is dependent upon their ability to adhere to professional standards. Standards of professional ethics and academic integrity are reviewed in each course and seminar.

Students admitted to the PASC. program are expected to be stewards for and leaders of the field of education. PASC students are held to the highest expectations for professional ethics and academic integrity in their roles as exemplars for the field. Faculty and students have a joint responsibility for assuring that the highest standards of professional ethics and academic integrity are adhered to by all participants in the program. Any suggestions that there may be a breach of these standards must be reported immediately and directly to the Educational Leadership Department Chair. Both faculty and students share this responsibility.

The University is committed to maintaining academic integrity throughout the university community. Academic dishonesty is a serious offense that can diminish the quality of scholarship, the academic environment, the academic reputation, and the quality of a Cal Poly Pomona degree. The University policy on academic integrity defines academic dishonesty at Cal Poly Pomona and the responsibility of students, faculty and in administrators relating to this subject. The university catalog and the Judicial Affairs website each have definitions and resources related to Academic Integrity.

Standards of professional ethics and academic integrity in the Cal Poly Pomona PASC program are simply to:

- a) Behave in an honest and forthright manner.
- b) Follow standard scholarly practice in giving credit to sources used in assignments.
- c) Act according to norms of professional educators.
- d) Cooperate and collaborate with fellow candidates on projects and assignments.

Students will be considered for removal from the program if they:

- a) Fail to Exhibit academic dishonesty as defined by the University Catalog;
- b) Exhibit inappropriate student conduct as defined by the doctoral program and the University Catalog;
- c) Exhibit unacceptable academic behavior;
- d) behave according to standards of the profession, public schools, university, department and/or program.

Frequently Asked Questions

1. How long does the Program take?

Typically, the Preliminary Administrative Services Credential (PASC) Program is completed in three semesters (fall semester, spring semester, and summer I session). If you are also obtaining the Master's Degree, it may take an additional two-three semesters. In summer II, you could take the first master's course, and take one additional master's course in the fall, and complete your thesis or project in the spring semester. Some students complete two courses in the fall in order to complete the requirements by the end of the Fall semester.

2. What are the fees for the PASC program?

At this time, the cost for obtaining the Preliminary Administrative Services Credential is about $11,000. If you are also getting the Master Degree, it would add an additional $2,500. Costs may vary from year to year. There are separate fees that must be paid to the CTC for submitting your CalAPA Cycles to them, as a part of your fieldwork. They total $425 at this time.

3. What is considered a graduate student?

Graduate students are considered full time if they are taking 6 units

4. What time are most PASC classes held?

Most PASC classes are held in the evening beginning at 4pm and are offered Monday through Thursday. Classes for the Preliminary Credential are held one day a week with two classes at a school site, not on the CPP campus. If you are in the Tuesday cohort group, you would take both classes on Tuesday (first class starting at 4:00, the second class starting at 6:30). You will have a dinner break, and would complete the classes by 9:30. The Fieldwork classes do not meet separately, and are integrated into the other classes. Site visit meetings will be held with your professor, you, and your fieldwork site mentor.

5. Do I have to take the Graduate Record Exam (GRE)?

The GRE is no longer required for the Master of Arts in Education program.

6. Are online courses available?

The courses are offered in hybrid mode and are not offered online.

7. Is preparation for the CalAPA included in the coursework?

Yes, the courses will prepare you for the three cycles of the Cal APA which are to be submitted while you are in your courses.

8. What is the difference between a project and a thesis?

A thesis is a paper written about original research you conduct. You may do research or inquiry on your teaching practices, the impact of administrative changes, student performance or any topic in which you are curious. To determine your research topic and scope of work, you must work closely with your thesis advisor. The project is based on a problem of practice or an identified need. Although a literature review is part of the project, research is not conducted. Instead, students complete a project, such as development of a handbook or a series of professional development sessions.

9. How much time is involved in completing the classes required for the Preliminary Administrative Services Credential?

The classes involve attending the lecture classes at the cohort site, reading, research, preparing and submitting assignments, doing presentations, and completing your Fieldwork at your school site. The program is rigorous so that you will be prepared to assume an administrative position when you successfully apply for one. All of your instructors and colleagues are aware of the demands of your teaching jobs and try to balance the work load to make it manageable.

10. What if I have a conflict during a time that class is scheduled?

Your instructors are all professionals who know and appreciate the demands of your teaching positions. Accommodations are made for such events, and such absences are usually not a problem.

11. Can I take time off from completing my program?

Yes, you can take up to 2 consecutive quarters off without having to fill out a Leave of Absence petition. If you need more than 2 quarters of, you will need to fill out a Leave of Absence petition. Students can take up to 8 consecutive quarters off with a Leave of Absence petition. (See Leave of Absence section Part IV).
