

Account Claiming and Email Set-Up

Welcome to the College of the Extended University at Cal Poly Pomona! We're excited that you're here and look forward to partnering with you as you complete the Sustainable Agriculture Training (SAT) program at Archi's Acres.

As a student in the SAT program, you are provided with a unique Bronco Account that gives you access to Bronco Direct (where you'll be able to view your class schedule, customer account, and grades) and to your CPP email.

Claim your Bronco Account

- Access CPP's account claiming page at:
https://apps.cpp.edu/idm/user_claim.aspx
- Enter your Bronco Number
- Enter your Claim Code (your date of birth in YYMMDD format)
- Follow the remaining directions to verify your identity, set up a password, and create secret questions.
- After you claim your account, you can use your BroncoName and password to log into BroncoDirect and into your student email account. These online services can be found here:

<http://www.cpp.edu/online-services.shtml>

- It is your responsibility to check your CPP email to stay current with communication from the university.
- If you prefer to have your university email forwarded to your personal email account, you may do so by contacting Cal Poly Pomona's Help Desk at (909) 869-6776
