University Receives 10-year Reaffirmation of Accreditation from WSCUC

Cal Poly Pomona has received reaffirmation of accreditation for a period of 10 years, the maximum length of time offered by WSCUC. It's a strong vote of confidence in the university's strategic plan and commitment to continual improvement.

"This designation is a reflection of our campus-wide commitment to student success and to being an institution that continually strives for excellence in all our endeavors. This achievement demonstrates that our strategic planning efforts, built over years of collaboration across our campus community, are making an impact and that our desire to continually improve serves as our institutional hallmark," said University President Soraya M. Coley.

As noted in the WSCUC Commission Action Letter, a team will conduct a special visit to the campus. The Fall 2023 Special Visit focused on the recommendations noted in the Commission Action Letter.

Accreditation

The goal of this program is to prepare individuals to enter the field of interior design by incorporating the highest standards of professional practice.

More

The Master program really helped build upon the skills that I got from the certificate program. I previously worked in fashion merchandising and buying... and did the certificate program through UCLA Extension. I found the Master's program to be a really great opportunity to hone in on my technical skills and renderings. I also found that the Masters program enabled me to become competent in researching, developing and completing an architectural design project from start to finish.

Master of Interior Architecture – Cal Poly Pomona Culminating Experience

- INA 6940 Master Project Interior Architecture Studio

Independent research and design development of an individual Master's project description and building program.

A complete design presentation is required incorporating all the skills and methods the student has developed through previous design studios.

- INA 6950 Master Documents

Development of a set of construction documents with specifications and a range of drawings required to obtain complete and accurate cost estimates. Design details, methods of integrating architectural and interior design, and mechanical and electrical elements and systems are required. Demonstration of ability to be an effective entry-level member of any design firm.

The screenshot displays the Conceptboard interface for a project named "CPP ARC 1021 S24". The interface includes a top navigation bar with the Conceptboard logo, the project name "Calpoly Pomona", and an "Alerts" notification. A left sidebar lists navigation options: Home, Boards, and Archive. Below the sidebar, a "PROJECTS" section lists several boards with their respective counts: BBrooks 21 (13), BBrooks 22 (12), BBrooks 23 (12), BBrooks20 (1), CATALOG - CPP ARC 102... (8), CPP ARC 1021 S24 (80), and Japan SU 23 (1). The main workspace shows a grid of boards. A search bar is located at the top of the workspace. The boards displayed are: "New board" (a blue board with a white plus sign), "Drew_Final Draft" (a board with a grid of pink sticky notes), "M04D_SP" (a board with a grid of pink sticky notes), "M04_SG_3" (a board with a grid of pink sticky notes), "EV_Final Draft" (a board with a grid of pink sticky notes), "M04_SG" (a board with a grid of pink sticky notes), "Behn Final" (a board with a grid of pink sticky notes), and "Final Presentation_CW" (a board with a grid of pink sticky notes). Each board has a small circular icon with a plus sign and initials in the bottom right corner, indicating collaboration. The interface is clean and modern, with a blue and white color scheme.

Welcome to INA1520 | ARCH X 471.125 Concept Driven Design | Studio and Seminar

This course challenges the student to learn to bring a larger idea, a concept, to a project. A design should be something more than a program, rather it should strive to inspire, challenge the use and generate delight.

During the course we will explore the entire range of creative disciplines to learn what are conceptual ideas in those areas, and bring--transform--them lto our projects. Tis will involve your creativity, critical thinking, research and enthusiasm and stamina to bring these types of project to reality. The course is challenging, but it is my hope that you

Tuition and Other Costs

Tuition

- $715.90 per unit (the program consists of 42 units)

Tuition and fees are paid directly to Cal Poly Pomona but are only a part of a student's education costs.

Other Costs

Cost of attendance elements to take into consideration after tuition and fees:

- Food and Housing
- Books, course materials, supplies, and equipment
- Personal Expenses
- Dependent Care Expenses (for those who have one or more dependents)
- Direct Loan origination fees (for those who borrow a Federal Direct loan)

All students are now eligible to enroll in a Monthly Payment Plan to cover tuition and fees. The plan will provide you with the option to start making smaller, monthly payments in advance of the semester. Enroll EARLY (even before registration) in order to lock in the longest payment term and smallest monthly payments.
