

JOIN US FOR A PAID PROJECT RETREAT

Do you have a research project that could be improved with substantive student engagement? Have you been thinking about incorporating project-based learning in your courses? Do you have an existing course project that you've been meaning to update? Join like-minded faculty members for a working retreat where you will have dedicated time to work on that project - and be paid for it! Faculty members who are selected for this Project Retreat, and submit the product of the retreat to be included in a campus database, will be provided a $500 stipend.
