PROGRAM OF STUDY INSTRUCTION

What is the Program of Study?

The purpose of the Program of Study (known as Masters Contract) is to make sure that the students have a plan in place to take the necessary coursework for the program within the allowable time. The students need to plan their coursework for the entire program and discuss the plan with a faculty advisor. The Program of Study becomes the contract between the student and the Office of Graduate Study.

Who needs to file a Program of Study?

Every student in the MSE-AE program should file a program of study and submit it for approval. The approved contract remains in the Aerospace Department and the Office of Graduate Study and will be assessed when the student applies for graduation.

When do you need to submit your Program of Study?

The student needs to submit the program of study to the Department Graduate Coordinator by the 10th week of their second term in the program. For example, if you were admitted to the program for Fall 2019, you have to submit your Program of Study by Week 10 of Spring 2020 Semester. If you fail to submit the program of study, the Office of Graduate Study will place a hold on your registration for the following term. The hold can be removed as soon as you submit your contract and receive the approval from the Aerospace Graduate Coordinators.

How to complete the form for submission?

- Start by completing the header with your information.
- In section I. MAJOR REQUIRED CORE, complete the “Term Taken” box with the actual term you have taken the course, or the term that you are planning to take the course. If you have taken the course, complete the box with the final grade received.

- In section III. EMPHASIS AREA ELECTIVE COURSES, list the courses you have selected to be taken as your elective courses from the list of approved classes in the catalog. It is understandable that this is your plan and may change according to the course offering each year. Consult with your faculty advisor. Complete the “Term Taken” box with the actual term you have taken the course, or the term that you are planning to take the course. Complete the box for the “Unit”.
