

Happy Holidays from Cal Poly Pomona
December 2020

No matter if you're student, alumni, staff, faculty, or friend of Cal Poly Pomona, giving back is a fundamental quality of the Bronco family.

But this year has been different. We're recognizing the ways our lives have changed and how our entire Bronco community has gone the extra mile in a host of ways to support our students.

The Poly Pantry became contactless and to-go to help support our fellow Broncos.

Our laptop program helped students stay connected and attend classes remotely.

We connected veterans with our renowned Arabian horses to relieve stress.

Emergency grants provided welcome support for our students, including Dreamers, as they continued on their educational journey.

And in true Cal Poly Pomona fashion, when the need was the greatest, we had our most successful Giving Day ever.

So as this year comes to a close, we have just one sentiment to share: for this holiday season and in the year to come, we hope that you find peace and good health, for body and mind.

[Cut to Pres. and Mr. Coley]

[Dr. Coley]

More than ever before, the Cal Poly Pomona family is committed to caring for each other and the communities where we live.

[Mr. Coley]

And as this semester closes and we look forward to the upcoming holidays, we hope you will take a moment to reflect on how we can all make a difference in the lives of others.

[Dr. Coley]

So, to the entire Cal Poly Pomona family — students, faculty, staff, alumni, and friends — Ron and I wish you a healthy and safe holiday season and a Happy New Year.

[Together]

Happy Holidays!
