The College of Science will hold two ideation sessions to help develop action plans for accomplishing the 8 goals that were developed through the collaborative development of our strategic plan.

Participation in an Ideation session is completely voluntary and will not commit a person to serve on a project team in the future. If you wish to participate in one of these first two sessions, please go to the appropriate Eventbrite link below and sign up for the day with a goal that is most interesting to you.

Monday, June 24 - Goals 1 - 5

Tuesday June 25 - Goals 1, and 5 - 8

8 GOALS for COS STRATEGIC PLAN

FOCUS AREA: TEACHING AND RESEARCH ARE THE CORE OF THE COLLEGE OF SCIENCE

  Goal #1: The COS is a leader in instructional excellence.
  Goal #2: Scholarly activity in the COS benefits students inside and outside the classroom.

FOCUS AREA: STUDENT SUCCESS FOR ALL

  Goal #3: The COS supports all students by providing high quality curricula and services for a diverse student population.
  Goal #4: The COS ensures that graduates are well-prepared for work and/or graduate school.

FOCUS AREA: RESOURCES FOR SUSTAINABILITY AND GROWTH

  Goal #5: The COS prioritizes resource development to continue providing excellent student experiences.

FOCUS AREA: BUILDING A THRIVING CULTURE

  Goal #6: The COS cultivates a collegial and inclusive environment for faculty, staff, and students.
  Goal #7: The COS prioritizes communication between all stakeholders.
  Goal #8: The COS operates under transparent policies and procedures.
our World and Beyond

Geophysics is one of the focus areas students may choose to study in the Department of Geological Sciences. By definition, geophysics encompasses the earth's physical processes, which includes hydrology or the study of water, as well as atmospheric science. The discipline also applies to the study of planetary bodies such as the moon or mars.
