Finding the Instruction Mode

Step 1: Find a section in the BroncoDirect Class Search

Step 2: Click on the Class or Section hyperlink for the section you’re interested in

Step 3: Look at the Class Details table

Face-to-Face

A class that meets face-to-face on campus and/or off-campus.

You are required to meet during the specified day(s) and time(s), if any.

Your syllabus, grades, and class materials may be posted online.

Fully Synchronous

A class that is instructed fully online at specified day(s) and time(s). You are not required to be on campus.

Fully Synchronous with TBA

A class that is instructed fully online with both specified meeting day(s)/time(s) and TBA meetings. You are required to meet online during the specified day(s) and time(s), with the rest of the class instruction delivered asynchronously.

Fully Asynchronous

A fully online class that allows you to view instructional materials at any time.

There won’t be specific days and times for you to log in, so you should build time for the class into your schedule.

Hybrid Synchronous

You are required to meet during the specified day(s) and time(s). Some meetings will be on campus and some will be online.

HyFlex (Check the Notes!)

For each meeting you will have the option to attend face-to-face, synchronously, or asynchronously.

More details will be provided before the start of the fall semester.

Hybrid Asynchronous

You are required to meet on campus during the specified day(s) and time(s), with the rest of the class instruction delivered asynchronously.

More details will be provided before the start of the fall semester.

Note:
Look at the BroncoDirect Class Notes for additional info. Your instructor will provide Zoom links and syllabi information via Canvas or email closer to the first days of the term.
