

California State Universities: Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System (IPEDS)

The 6-year graduation rates of California State Universities in the IPEDS comparison group for the incoming freshman class of 2008. Inboxes show student population in 2014 and percent URM among population. Cal Poly Pomona is underlined in red. Source: Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System (IPEDS), the federal government’s annual survey of higher education institutions.

The 6-year graduation rates of the 34 campuses identified as a national comparison group by the National Center for Education Statistics in 2014 using IPEDS. Evaluation is done on the incoming freshman class of 2008. Inboxes show student population in 2014 and percent URM among population. Cal Poly Pomona is underlined in red. Source: Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System (IPEDS), the federal government’s annual survey of higher education institutions.