

WSCUC 4-1-1

Why does WSCUC accreditation matter? Accreditation ensures that credits and degrees from Cal Poly Pomona are recognized by other schools and employers. Through the review process, WSCUC confirms that an institution has met the standards of performance for a high-quality education. Accreditation is required for federal (Title IV) and state financial aid programs, as well as transference of college credit.

MEET IRPA

Institutional Research, Planning, and Analytics \(IRPA\) facilitates data-informed decision making to help Cal Poly Pomona fulfill its commitment to student access and achievement, as well as the university's continuous improvement. The office seeks innovative ways to make data accessible, intelligible and actionable. For example, the online tool Tableau translates complex data into interactive dashboards, charts and data visualizations. The office is also involved in data gathering and analysis in admissions, enrollment, student success, degree progress and strategic planning.

CONTINUOUS IMPROVEMENT

Dashboards Tapped to Help Track Graduation and Persistence Rates

The university is using Tableau dashboards, among other types of technology, to analyze graduation and persistence rates and ensure students get all of the support they need to be successful.

Efforts to Bolster Graduation Rates Proves Successful

To ensure that students get the classes they need to make progress toward graduation, Cal Poly Pomona has a system in place to track bottleneck courses and direct additional funding to relieve impacted courses.

University Launches CPP Connect Advising Platform

The Office of Student Success has launched CPP Connect, a powerful tool that enhances the holistic advising support Cal Poly Pomona offers to its students. The tool gives academic advising and tutoring professionals a common advising notetaking system. In future phases, the platform will also have early alert and predictive analytics features.

Added Course Sections Help Improve Grad Rates

The log jam of in-demand course sections is beginning to ease at Cal Poly Pomona, thanks to a multi-prong approach that includes collecting and analyzing enrollment data to allow the university to strategically add sections of highly sought-after courses.

The Career Center hosts several fairs for job seekers during the fall semester. Events include the Fall Career Fair for all majors on Sept. 26, the Engineering/Hi-Tech Career Fair on Sept. 27 and the Graduate/Professional School Fair on Oct. 8, all in the University Quad.

When you were in elementary school, what was your dream job? How has your academic and career path changed over the years?
