

Fall 2021: Advice from Alumni Panel

On September 9th, OMS started off the semester with a big networking event: Advice from Alumni Panel. The panel featured 4 guests: Chetana from Niagara Bottling, Huy from Thompson Pipe Group, Jesus from Lockheed Martin, and Jonathan from Pomona USD.

All panelists shared their range of experience, some completed rotational programs, some worked several positions, some started new companies, but all are still learning. There are endless amounts of opportunities in the field of supply chain and operations management. Our panelists suggest students to learn and value the knowledge gained from classrooms and be able to apply that information into our future work. Some highlighted advice from our panelists suggest students now to build our soft and technical skills, and build our qualifications—one example staying long term—to grow our future career.

Thank you to our alumni panelists for taking time out of your busy schedule to attend, educate, and engage with CPP students and faculty!
